

MANAGEMENT HACKS

For A Smarter,
More Scaleable Business

Sometimes you feel like you are wearing too many hats and managing growth without losing quality control can be scary.

In less than three minutes achieve clarity on what tasks you can offload immediately, and identify your essential and non-essential business activities.

Hack Tool #1

Find out if you can afford to bring on more people.

In 2 minutes, quickly estimate how much it will cost to onboard a team member. You will be able to plan and budget whether you decide to hire or contract the work for the time being.

Hack Tool #2

Myth: Finding good people is hard.

Truth: Retaining great talent is harder. Employees are most likely to leave an organization within the first 18 months.

With an on boarding handbook you get to demonstrate outstanding leadership from Day 1. Get your team on the same page, establish culture and save time on training so there are no questions when you take the day off.

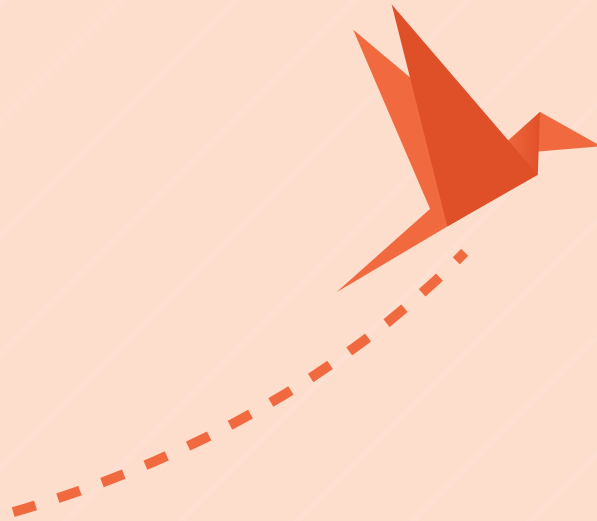

Hack Tool #3

Happy Employees = Happy Company

In 20 minutes you can set monthly and quarterly goals and see how much progress your team members have accomplished. You can see the work that excites them and reward them for their results.

It's Time To Come Out Of Your Cage.

ScaleTime™ is for companies who want to grow past their first employee and scale without looking back! To do that, owners have to learn to untie the noose of responsibilities and create a new foundation for their business. We can show you exactly how with our fail-proof, proprietary systems development process.
